<<<<<<<<<<<<Look Who's Home<>>>>>>>>>>>>

Roaming for 20 days in Coral Springs, FL...
Sammy is now SAFE & HOME!!! Here is Sammy's story.

Sammy ran out the front door on the night of the 6th and never came back. He had never been outside before and I knew he was lost. I posted over 1000 flyers in my neighborhoods, drove the area daily and walked every night looking for him. Losing Sammy was one of the hardest things I have ever been through before. The worst part of all, was not knowing if he was hurt, stuck, or just afraid. I got many calls and it was never Sammy.

I received a reply on my craigslist post to call Jamie Katz. I hired her because I just needed more help, someone with experience to guide me. I followed her instructions and posted 60 signs at 30 different locations the same day I hired her. The next morning I got a call from a woman less than a half mile south of me, in a gated community. The woman told me to come over now because she was looking at Sammy as she was calling me. I was there in 3 minutes and I saw a black and white cat but I knew it wasn't Sammy. As I was walking back to my car depressed because it was not Sammy, the woman sent me a text and it said, "I have him, he's in my backyard"! She then asked, "Does he have a ring around his tail"? Yesss!!! I sprinted to find Sammy at her gate purring and rubbing up against it. I looked at her, she was crying. I started crying, I looked at her and said "That's my Sam".

He didn't come right away, he made me scale 2 fences first. I then said, "Come on, let's go see Boots" (his brother) and he came running into my arms!!!

Thank you, Sam is home!
